The Apache Xerces™ Project - Mailing Lists

Table of contents

Every volunteer project obtains its strength from the people involved in it. Mailing lists provide a simple and effective communication mechanism.

You are welcome to join any of these mailing lists (or all of them if you wish). You can choose to lurk, or actively participate. It's up to you. Before you join these lists, you may want to look over the resources in the Reference Library section. As with any mailing list, you should probably read any FAQ postings or simply read a sampling of postings on the list before posting your first question.

1 Usage Notes

Archives are generally named after the project they're about (duh!) with a suffix that denotes the subjects covered. Common suffixes are:

- `*-dev` Developer list - for technical questions about the product, code patches, bug submissions about advanced functionality, etc.
- `*-users` Users list - for general usage questions about the product from an end-users perspective
- `*-commits` commit list - this is a read-only list that sends out email with details of all changes to that project's CVS, SVN or Wiki repository

The ezmlm mailing list controller accepts commands by sending emails to `<listname>-command`, generally like the following:

- `*-subscribe` Subscribe your current email address to the list
- `*-unsubscribe` UnSubscribe your current email address from the list
- `*-help` get Help on mailing list commands

Example
If you want to unsubscribe from the Xerces General mailing list you send an empty mail to `general-unsubscribe@xerces.apache.org`.

2 Public Archives

Archives of all public mailing lists can be found here:

- http://mail-archives.apache.org/mod_mbox/ (mod_mbox archives)
- http://xerces.apache.org/mail/ (gzipped mbox files)
- Some lists are also available from http://marc.info/, The Mail Archive, GMANE, Nabble and MarkMail.

3 The Xerces General Discussion List

Low Traffic Subscribe Unsubscribe

This list is for issues that span across all xerces.apache.org projects, whether technical or organizational. Discussions about specific code bases should be redirected to one of the Xerces sub-project-specific lists below.

Archives:

- http://mail-archives.apache.org/mod_mbox/xerces-general/ (mod_mbox archives)
- http://xerces.apache.org/mail/general/ (gzipped mbox files)
- http://xerces-general.markmail.org/ (MarkMail archives)

4 The Xerces C++ Users List

Medium Traffic Subscribe Unsubscribe

This is the list where users of the Xerces C++ XML parser can meet and discuss questions, raise issues, etc.

Archives:

- http://mail-archives.apache.org/mod_mbox/xerces-c-users/ (mod_mbox archives)
- http://xerces.apache.org/mail/c-users/ (gzipped mbox files)
